About Market Stainton

Market Stainton is a charming village located approximately 7 miles north of Horncastle and approximately 9 miles south west of Louth, within the East Lindsey District of Lincolnshire. The village is steeped in history, with evidence of Roman and Saxon settlements, and is mentioned in the Domesday book of 1086. The village is home to the Grade II* listed St Michaels Church, a 13th century building constructed from green stone limestone and red brick. Nearby, Market Stainton Hall, a Grade II listed country house adds to the area's historic charm. Surrounded by natural beauty of the Wolds, the village offers a tranquil setting for those seeking a rural lifestyle, while still being within reach of local amenities and transport links.
